A special combination of proven herbs and highly dosed Vitamin C and zinc to support the mucus dissolution and the body's defence system

Ideally suited:

- ✓ For all horses as a diet-related support of acute problems with the airways

Bronchi-Vital contains a special combination of herbs that have been tested and proven over the years to support the vitality of human and animal. It also has a positive effect on problems of the airways and the body's defence system.

For a considerable amount of time these herbs have been used as a support for the airways.

Additionally this proven combination of herbs with added water soluble Vitamin C and the essential trace element zinc has a strengthening effect on the body's defence system.

Please consider the national and international doping regulations.
